

POSTING OF DAILY AVERAGE GAS QUALITY INFORMATION MIGC does not have the appropriate measurement and software systems in place to report average gas quality information on a daily basis. MIGC has advised its existing firm shippers who have agreed that until further notice, the non-reporting of gas quality information by MIGC on its web site is acceptable. Certain gas quality information such as oxygen and moisture content is available retroactively at month end through an online web application called QuickMeter system. Access is free of charge. If you would like access to QuickMeter please contact Shannon Swanson at (720) 929-6036 for more information.
